Our Lives

Inspiring personal stories of migrants to Britain

Book launch and meet the authors

7.30 pm, Friday 15 October 2010

Friends House, 10 Cedar Road, Sutton SM2 5DA

Our Lives Press publishes the inspiring personal accounts of migrants and refugees to Britain, giving them a voice and bringing their experiences in their country of birth and here in Britain to a wider audience.

Finding the Unexpected by Babush Tesfay

In the latest book from Our Lives Press, Babush describes his childhood in Ethiopia, his contact with Cuban soldiers and his journey to Eritrea where he met an English girl who was to become his wife. Forced to escape to Sudan and from there to Kenya, he finally came to London where he now lives with his wife and two children. Price £4.00.

Come to the book launch on 15 October and hear from Babush about his life, meet and talk with other authors from Afghanistan, Pakistan, Bangladesh and the Congo, and hear from members of Our Lives Press about how they started and how they support the authors.

Our Lives Press is run entirely by volunteers.

Books cost £2 to £4, proceeds cover production costs and authors receive royalties. For more information about Our Lives Press, email ourlivespress@yahoo.co.uk or telephone 020 8395 5384.
